A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE GORE

---

We thought you might enjoy a light-hearted summary of our first 100 years...

The Gore has been an hotel ever since it was built, more than a century ago, apart from a four-year stretch when it served as the Turkish Embassy.

Today it is a home from home to international music business personalities, actors, film stars, politicians, concert violinists, even the occasional head of state.

In the 1950s and 1960s, Andre Simon, the famous food and wine writer, was a regular. So were Lord Miles, the founder of the Mermaid Theatre and father of Sarah Miles; Sir Malcolm Sargent, the conductor; Tony Hancock, the comedian; Leon Goossens, oboist; and Dorothy Tutin and Dame Edith Evans, neither of whom need any introduction to theatre buffs.

The iconic Rolling Stones album, Beggars Banquet was launched in our very own Bar 190 in 1968 with scenes from that historic party adorning the walls.

Before that, members of aristocracy from all over Europe enjoyed The Gore's bang-up-to-date facilities, particularly our hydraulic elevator and horse carriage service.

Tarquin's	£11
Creamy, dry with delicate green pine and subtle frangipane notes. Crisp and clean on the finish, with lingering citrus zest and eastern spices.
Roku	£11
Earthy and vegetal, with a light whisper of fruity sweetness hiding underneath. Peppery notes develop on the finish.
Sipsmith	£11
Juniper with an expressed pine character comes on early, with bright lemon curd, mandarin flesh and citrus mid-palate.
Oxley	£15
Bright and Juniper forward, Oxley Gin rounds out the nose and palate with thoughtful and restrained supporting botanicals.

Has a long finish with moderate warmth. Juniper fades leaving hints of citrus zest with earthy undertones.
