An Olympic breeze blows through Paris. Discovered for the first time in 1913, Pierre de Coubertin drew and coloured the Olympic rings in his own hand.

Since 1920, this flag has been flown proudly, displaying the five colors of our continents around the world:

blue for Oceania, yellow for Asia, black for Africa, green for Europe and red for America.

It's to these colors, translated into continents, that we've dedicated our selection of signature cocktails, which will bring to life the essence of each country in the world.
